

Dear Rita,

07/19/13

Hiwidy! To be honest, I'm not so good right now. My best friend's husband wants her to stop helping me with certain things. He's very controlling & is trying to end our friendships. I have no idea why she married him.

That's wonderful that you're going to visit George! Send him my best wishes.

I have not had one personal visit since I was locked up 9 years ago. My parents have both passed away. They were both wonderful & I miss them a lot. I had 3 sisters & 2 brothers. I had received notice that one sister died. I have never heard from any of them & don't really want to. They're all awful, hateful people & I want nothing to do with them.

I'm really very grateful to you for your support.

Hugs,
