

Dear Little Pilgrim,

07/19/13

Howdy! Remember, I'm not actually a woman, I just should have been born one.

You're right, I am losing out on all this. I've started to blow things off a lot more. If the courts here had the ~~decency~~ decency to do what's right & follow the law, that would be one thing, but they don't. The judges here are awful.

I used to meditate more, but have been really bad about it the past several months. I'm trying to practice more often 'cause I know I need to.

Thanks for your support!

Hugs,
