

The cloud of dismay

As a thunderstorm rolls, my heart join in with the thunderstorm of pain that long to know who was the thief in the night? That took my handsome angel away from me named Joshua. Joshua smiled with deep dimples, that cause my day to go great. My angel Joshua had a glow about him that was from my heavenly father. Joshua I wish you could tell me who was that thief in the night that took you away from me. In why they did it. My dear angel I want you to know your mommie loves you. Although my heart still rolls with the thunderstorm of pain and unanswered questions!
