

"Patriotism"

Your political agendas no doubt, are to bend and break us. Your thirst for absolute power drives your coal black hearts; within the midst of your diseased minds is where it all starts.

In every age - Innocent have suffered and paid for your blood lust, unwilling victims of your rage. The cold, senseless wars you wage fill history's tomes with countless lies - across the ocean in foreign lands innumerable victims died. Soldier and civilian alike; Turn another page!

Robbed one Nation of its land for your own filthy greed; kidnapped the children of another for your own sick fucking need.

Fill your children's heads with patriotic dreams, slowly you shape them into sweet little obsequious pawns; Until you've created the ultimate - expendable human killing machines.

Patriotism is nothing more than a virus that you've created (designed) to infiltrate and enslave the minds of the young - plain and simple Nationalism, breeding happy adults to weed your military gun.

Fill the hungry public with over-whelming pride, forever in your debt, in your service they'll ever abide;
In your own selfish and greedy desire of power you've sat and watched while in your command - millions have died.
