I just learned I have Colon Cancer. Now I know why I've been weak. I wish to know all I can from those that are going through or those that are survivors of Colon Cancer. Being in Prison I'm kept in the dark when it comes to information. Any one that has a story to tell - Please Do tell.

The California Department of Correction has until December 31st to release a 137 percent of the over all inmates. If they continue to defy the federal court's order - They will lose control of the Prison system which is the best we can hope for that would mean the guards union would most likely dissolve. Cross your fingers - The tax payers just might be saving some money.
