

Nice things shared behind the bars: August 20th 2013

The males, I've met throughout the jails and prison systems that are selfless towards others, they have always had a little something to give:

A verbal story, a nice book, a rap song, a good joke to make me laugh, a listening ear. Compassion when I'm hurting. A lie told to protect us from an act of danger.

plus, a nice gift of canteen food items, to eat at night before bed time.
