██████████ & His Curious Cup, created 26 Aug. 2013

It's one thing for someone to be sexually attracted to somebody with the same genitals that they have. But it's quite another thing for a person to use a position of authority or power to hustle prisoners into engaging in homosexual activity with them, although the heterosexuality of someone who'd be so persuaded is dubious.

Anyway, here's the story, straight from a friend whom I think it's best not to identify.

██████████ was a guard, a Correctional Officer (C.O.) at the Prairie Du Chien Correctional Institution (P.D.C.I.). Around Sept. or October of 2007 he was caught by an eyewitness: fellating a prisoner.

"I shoulda known something was funny about the guy when my cellie [name omitted] pulled out his testicle at lunch-time count one day, showed it to Trenton and said, 'Wanna see my tumor?' and Trenton smiled and didn't write my cellie up," my witness told me

██████████ worked on unit 5, where the inmates had 18 months or less before they'd be released. It was a pretty laid back unit.

After Trenton was caught with a mouthful of rocks, an investigation ensued. I recall several goofy-ass prisoners being sent up to the state's supermax, where I resided, for implicating/accusing Trenton of engaging in sexual misconduct, others were sent to the supermax for receiving gifts (totally free, I'm sure) of contraband from Trenton. In other words, it was a cover up. In fact, Trenton's fellow C.O.s protested Trenton's dismissal, had parties to benefit Trenton.

Nothing new to me. When C.O. ██████████ at the supermax, was caught giving erotic notes to a bisexual inmate, Sheckler lost his job, but the inmate was harassed until he tried to kill himself.

██████████ lost his job & his wife (Amen!), then, curiously, opened an Ice Cream shop in Prairie Du Chien, calling it "The Curious Cup". Due to the wise lack of curiosity on the part of the locals, the shop did not do well & soon closed down.

Curiously one of the most disgusting videos available on the web is known as "Two Girls & a Cup," according to my recently free neighbors. It's pornographic & I'm told you're guaranteed to puke if you see it.

But I wonder if Trenton was inspired by or inspired that video.

Look this story up on prisonlegalnews.com of) because:

- she was a disgrace to the Black Nationalist/Power types,
- she'd disrespected, at one point or another, sometimes at multiple points, everyone on the range;
- she'd blatantly snitched on multiple prisoners; and
- repeatedly dared people to kill her, even giving out her mom's info

The third gay prisoner was a reclusive, gaunt Black person.

The fourth was [redacted], older, with a very feminine personality, Black, from the projects in Chicago, so game/prison-politics-conscious.

[redacted] acted as a stabilizing "motherly" figure for [redacted]. But [redacted] always eventually severely disrespected [redacted] calling her "ugly," saying she was "fat," looked like a car mechanic, etc. The disrespect from Starburst, I could tell, really cut [redacted]. Occasionally [redacted] would dump on [redacted] saying "You aint a real woman!" calling her a "dick sucker" + crazy for being a lesbian in a man's body. A case of the homosexual calling the lesbian queer....

It's a lot like how other groups of prisoners - Blacks from the inner city, etc. - interacted. They got along, sometimes fought, usually made up, and formed ever-changing alliances between their membership, jockeying for position as... the "boss bitch" (they frequently called each other "bitch", although "punk" and "fag" were taken offensively by them).

Some of the allegedly straight prisoners around us ended up viciously verbally arguing with Starburst, trying to convince her that she was a man. But, as I pointed out, "How can she play for our team when she don't even have balls?" And, "Do ya really want someone on your team who's got tits and been a transsexual prostitute?" (only the Devil knows all she's done!). I must doubt those antagonist prisoners' alleged heterosexuality, as it seemed threatened by [redacted] orientation.

Homosexuality is... queer to me, I am uncomfortable at seeing gay men (less so women), especially being intimate. But, maybe because I'm atheistic, I've become more tolerant of the possibility that not everyone shares my craving for female intimacy - and I certainly would be a lesbian if I possessed other gear than I got. Besides, Rainbow Bookstore in Madison, a lesbian/gay operation, has looked out for me tough on free books, which I'm grateful for. Nate
