I guess I shouldn't be surprised, but I figured that any group of people that could think up a Rainbow Parade, relish the feel of silk panties holdin' up their nut sack or enjoy having their Hershey highway rode upon would be perennially optimistic. Mais non, as I recently discovered.

I was in a hallway with 30 cells in it, at least four of which held prisoners with various degrees and forms of Gender Identity Disorder (G.I.D.), a.k.a. chicks with dicks. This was an abnormally high-percentage of out-of-the-closet gay/transsexual prisoners, homosexuals who were all acquainted with each other and conducted themselves as a group.

The strangest one was a white one who claimed to be a woman in a man's body, who liked women, not men. Her (out of respect for this person's asserted identity, I did & do refer to all as females, which made for better relations, less conflicts) orientation had me confused, thinking "I like pussy too. Dude, you're a dude!" But she carried herself and spoke in a slightly feminine manner, like lesbians I've known. Her name was "Heather," & she kinda reminded me of Peppermint Patty from "Peanuts" comics, in build & with long reddish hair.

The most outspoken, sluttiest, Bi-Polar (literally) one was called Starburst. Starburst was packin' a pistol but no bullets (her nuts had been surgically removed), had 38 DDs and took female hormones. She had loud, gay-erotic conversations on the tier, and sometimes performed a strip tease at rec, which she called her "Million Dollar Tapout." On the street, she (a dark Black person) was a transsexual prostitute. Heather had a crush on Starburst, even though Starburst had thrown shit & piss in Heather's face at rec. &, on & off, Starburst cussed Heather out, only to tell Heather, "I love you bitch" an hour or a day later. Starburst kissed and told — told all of us about the supposed thugs she'd sexually serviced, knowing perfectly well that some of her lovers faced death by their gang/org' brothers and that she too would be targetted for spreading such "slander." A lot of people had been talking about Starburst being whacked,
