

David Michaels is writing a seven book series a Western call -ed THE BOOK OF ELI. Book One: 367 Days in Texas is now available in ebook form through www.ebooks-by-crooks.com. David is inviting you to preview the first 3 chapters free of charge by sending a request to davemich@yahoo.com with 'first 3 chapters' in the subject box. If you like what you read, please purchase the book. David, who is in prison, is writing in an attempt to keep his wife from certain financial disaster. To help him help her, please forward this e-mail to everyone on your contact list. Mr. Michaels thanks you from the bottom of his heart.

Poem from me, the blog'r
another 16
I cry on make shift
paper plates, desiring 2 pick up others
trash collectors
this boy, this girls my treasure
why do we throw away life?
yearning 2 die
w/out a number
behind my name
another 16
I cry in makeshift
dreams
Gee! open this casket breath of life to the masses / of my ♡ enlarged w/ sadness
my words crumble
like the syllables
to "n-words"
time is an
"end word"

Counting up
fill the count down
Jesus my eulogy
of resurrection
silence of the lambs
of glossophobia
I'm Moses reflected another 16
I cry in canelles
another 16
I cry in time of grace
calendars
another (sweet) 16
I beman in tongues
from bema seeds
of deep bunk
Shaw Casel in face
cards
attached to blue
laynurel
of a d'edrenary
w/no
words