

Greetings & Hello!

Sept. 23RD 2013

Sorry to all of you out there who have been reading my blogs. I know the postings have been far and few in between. But it has been a very hard, emotional time for me.

On June 26TH, one of my biggest supporters, my Grandma Honey suffered a stroke. This lady, who I love so much, has demanded I call every week or at least every two weeks for the last 12 years.

Since her stroke, she had been medicated, with CNA's around the clock, and still in pain.

This part is hard for me to write, do to tears literally blurring and falling from my eyes. But on Sept. 9TH at 10:45 A.M. she finally let go and passed onto a whole new journey. One where she no longer hurts and she is able to plant a garden.

She is 74 years young and in my world, she is walking in the summer land waiting for the absolute right time to come and have another journey on earth.

Grandma, you are truly the ~~best~~ greatest Grandma, or at least my favorite one of all! I love you!!!!!!

Hey, Life is going good though.
I am currently in my THIRD play Here at T.R.C.I. Shakespears King Lear and I am Cordelia (a girl).

One of the coolest things this year is that the institution approved the use of wigs. I get to be one who wears a wig. Those things are hot, they hold in a lot of heat. But the play is going great and I am having fun.

I am now down to 4 yrs, 4 months, and 12 days left on my sentence. Almost minimum which is scary because I have now been locked up for 12 yrs and 3 1/2 months. So much has changed on the streets in 12 yrs.

Well, I wanted to write something quick to say what's up with me. Leola Marie Brandl, please write to me OK. My address is
