

- UPSET ALERT DAY -

It was upset alert yesterday (Oct 12, 2013) in college football. I can't believe STANFORD LOST! I'm sure they will bounce back next week with a strong win.

We have <sup>the</sup> Washington Redskins at the Dallas Cowboys. Cowboys <sup>are</sup> favored by 6 points or a touchdown, but I actually like the Redskins. I think RG3 has found his groove, remember, he didn't get any preseason warm up games in, so it has taken him a few games to warm up. I think he's ready!

I still have Boston Red Sox to win the world series. I know everyone also like the Dodgers to win, but I still think Boston will win it for Beantown.

Monday night football, I think the San Diego Chargers will beat Andrew Luck and the Indianapolis Colts by a field goal. The Chargers play good at home and the Colts are suspect on the road.

The Red Sox will win this game tonight against Detroit Tigers in Boston. Sherzer is pitching for Detroit, Bucholtz for Boston. It will be under 8 runs and Boston will win by 2 runs, to tie the series 1-1.

I believe the Colts will beat the Broncos ~~in~~ this week also. The Colts defense will hold Peyton Manning to a low scoring game.

Those are my picks for the upcoming games. Send me your picks for upcoming games if you think you can pick as good as I can. 😊
