

Star Wars

Dear Disney,

Don't fuck this up! Star Trek fans tolerated Mr. Abrams changing shit to fit his idea of Star Trek. And as a Trek fan I accepted it and actually liked it. J.J. Abrams has to stick to the source material. So, Mr. Lucas, you need to crack the whip on this. Disney, don't pull a John Carter on this franchise. The many Star Wars fans will hold you accountable to the story's continuity. The press release said 40 years after Jedi. That means Jaina Solo will be the Katniss Everdeen of a galaxy far far away. I notice Hollywood is leaning toward strong female heroes. Pay attention D.C. when doing the Wonder Woman movie. Any way, if all my reader sees this and follows Star Wars, please fill me in. These need to be better than the prequels.
