Dear arcadiaego (neat pseudonym),

Thank you for your kind comments on WHAT WASTES AND WITHERS THERE. And, your touching poem rings clarion to "A common man's despair." I intend to use your poem and of course give you the appropriate credit. I had been concerned no one was reading my postings, however your comments have given me renewed faith to continue to strike my little matches toward the great darkness.

In white rose's labor,

Robert
