

Well family,

Nov 1st 2013

I have to give a big thank you to "Applez Shop" and the opportunity to write four poems for the Poetry Workshop.

It was a lot harder than I expected, to this day I keep trying to write haiku, in the ancient Japanese style of writing. There I can see why so many English translators, (poets), don't follow the master's court. For me, first the challenge, it will give me a new way to kill time, by adding to my writing skills.

I'm sorry but I've abandoned the thought of ever having a penmanship worthy of someone like my mother's.

Well family when this was started I was third from last to see the Prison Dr. I'm still third from last, but I'm next. 😊 Thank you for getting me through this.

2011 EACE,
Billy
