Kathyf20,

Your kind words about my art were very appreciated, thank you so much. Although I'm far from the best, I always give it my best, in hopes of becoming better, each time.

Yes, birds do represent the freedom that I can only wish, hope, dream and pray for. If the Creator's willing, maybe one day I will be free. ~~But~~ for now, I live each day of my life-sentence, in thanks to the Creator for giving me breath in my life.

Again, thank you so much for your kind words. May the Creator bless you, many times in life.

In Thanks,

x Guadalupe

PS:

Please continue to look me up from time to time, for future art, poetry or essays (or me just talking).
