

(On a Personal Note)

Crys Sweetly; Uh, Do You love me or even Care? I'm Confused! You talk so sweet, say so much of love when we do talk, then ~~60~~ Months without even so much as a post card signed with love. Your mouth says Love, But the Silence sends an entirely Different message...

I don't EVER ask you or anyone for anything except the chance to be loved.. Just to be told that I am wanted, needed, Cared about, or loved, That's It.

You Promise letters and photos, I Believe you every time Because MY heart Doesn't Know how not to... Then, , , , Nothing...

I've Sat and listened to you yell, Scream, Insult and bash me without one second of argument or objection - just because I Love you that much and hearing your voice after so long made up for it all, even when you got mad & told me to kill myself.. I am sorry that this is on here but I have no other way to reach you.. Nothing I've Tried as Rendered a Response.

Please Tell my sister
That I will not write her again untill she Stops her father from Returning the letters BACK to me and Stops Giving him all her money.
Stops Giving anyone her money.

I Guess I have just Reached a Point where If everyone is Going to Just leave me, I'll embrace the Silence, Solitude and emptiness.
if everyone is Giving up on me
I suppose I'll Give up Too..
