Hi Lisa:

Thank you so much for all your encouraging comments. Lately, I've been feeling burned out on writing my blog. But your positive reinforcement has helped to motivate me to get back to work and create some blogs:)

Also, thanks for returning my photos. I wanted to post them so I could refer friends and family and pen pals to them. It is difficult and expensive to get copies of photos these days. But now that they are on my blog, anyone can access them.
