

Time Travel: A letter to my great, great, great, grandchildren

Dear great, great, great, grandchildren,

I am allowing my mind to travel through time and space to write this letter to you. My past is your future and your future is my past. I guess the best advice that I can give you about life is to find that one good thing that was planted inside of you when you were created, and make sure that you utilize it to its full potential. This will direct you to your true path in life, the person you were born to be. Don't worry about being different or not fitting into a group because it will only distract you away from being who you really are and it will also put you on a dangerous path.

I won't be around by the time you read this. I will be in some other form of space, time or dimension. I am so happy and blessed that I had the opportunity to travel into the future and write these words to you.

Your great, great, great, grandfather,

Michael Winsett

Dated in the Year of:
Tuesday, November 26, 2013