

Dear Elizabeth-Anne,

11-19-13

Howdy again!

Yes, the Hole is how we commonly refer to "segregation." Usually you're in a cell with one guy, so it's not really "solitary per se."

US prisons, & the legal system in general, are both insane. They are now holding people after their sentence is over & civilly committing them for life. This is now used against sex offenders - u crimes are awful - but I'm sure they'll try to expand it. Plus, when they leave prison they still have to report monthly, sometimes for life.

I am trying to avoid psychos, but the problem is that the psychos don't always avoid me. I have to live with these people. It's awful!

I have to ask where you got your screenname? I'm assuming it's from "Et in Arcadia ego"?
Take care of yourself!

Hugs,
