We've finally got to see the movie "White House Down." Jamie Foxx, Channing Tatum & James Woods put their thing down. I had to watch it at least three times!!! Without a shadow of doubt, that movie was a fictional reflection of today's political sentimentality in opposition to President Obama (except for him being responsible for the death of an agent's son.) If the American people, and the world, hasn't caught on by now, then they should watch this movie. The Opposition does not want President Barack Obama to succeed! The plain simple truth is that racism is alive and well today. It's hidden behind fake smiles and phony handshakes. Yes, African Americans has come a long way since slavery, due to the "Civil Rights Movement." We've got judges, congressmen, entrepreneurs, super-stars, billionaires and so forth. Yet we're facing the highest rates of poverty, incarceration, deaths by cop, unemployment, poor quality of education, dropouts & broken homes.

President Obama has been demonized due to his policies & the labels thrust upon him. These attacks has been pretextual in nature to make him an ineffective President. A depiction of this obstinacy is the recent government shut down which cost Americans 6 Billion dollars!! Then there's been the affordable health care act which they are using to strike fear into the hearts & minds of the American people. The Opposition's actions are akin to terrorism.

They can't assassinate him like they did President Kennedy or Dr. Martin L. King because that would incite a possible civil war, so they assassinate his character instead. He cannot be allowed to succeed because then more blacks might get the idea in their heads that they can achieve the same goals, and we might start believing in ourselves again and work together.
