

Hello Again friends & comrades!

S:

I have been unable to post current blogs on this Internet address because "the man" who happens to be my immediate oppressor, took it upon himself to lock me away in his dungeon, (one of the mishaps of a Political Prisoner in prison when Big Brother wants to dispose of our type of prisoners and avoid the problems that arise from what we represent.)

Good news to report! A favorable turn of events has created some progress in the plans and efforts to take my political case back to court and prove the state set me up. It seems I have almost secured qualified legal counsel who will represent these issues. Although I still in need of moral support and social interaction. So contact me and let me know there is still some "life" left in the People who are representative of the People's causes. Change doesn't come overnight! But, it comes a lot easier with mutual comradeship, and communal support from the people.

It seems the media is not naive to my case and what it consists of. As reports about the incident that occurred at the prison which resulted with my being so rudely taken out of the prison's general population and locked away in the Segregated Unit, were reported on local Sacramento news along with additional commentation explaining that I happen to be in prison for a politically related case.

Well, this is the close of this new communique'. Let me hear from someone out there in the free world! Please.

I will be patiently awaiting contact from someone.

Yours in the Struggle!
