

Clouded Views by Ronald W. Clark
 I sit on death row day after day
 Watching my life waste away
 Yet I think back on a life I once had
 Where times now don't seem so bad
 Thinking of all the love I had
 But the drugs surely clouded my view
 And ruined my life and others too.

"Life As I See It"
 Life as I see it surely can't be
 The way we live life back here unfre
 For this is truly not a life
 And anyone can see
 That life back here just isn't meant t

Good morning Paul.

I received your comment and I always respond back. The fact is, mistakes come in many different shapes and sizes. And the fact is about 99% of the human population is mentally ill in some shape or form. I know for a fact that Bill was not playing with a full deck, and you too quick to judge, too quick to condemn, and you nor I have any authority to say who will and will not go to hell. Which Paul, I'm already in hell. To wake up in a 9x7... 63 square foot cage every day. The guy that pulled the trigger and killed Mr Willis on January 12, 1990 only served 11 years & months. From what I hear he's been back in jail twice, domestic violence, and now at Duval. Fair, justice, no. Fair is when you put a Congressman's son in the death chamber for murder, and you and I both know that'll never happen. The rich and privilege will never see the insides of America's death chamber. Yes I cry foul and I believe I have every right to. For I've seen first hand, and experienced first hand the bias, prejudice and arbitrariness of Florida's death penalty, something that hopefully you'll never experience. Please take care.

God bless you,
 In peace + love
