

Dear Readers ,..

forgive my delay in writing. I denied Byers at my last hearing for trivial trite reasons that are illegal. I've had to time to re plan my next steps.

I recently rewrote a portion of my adventures in California Prisons. I will share it with you very soon. In the meantime here is a poem I wrote. Just something that came out.

I am still seeking a female companion to share my adventures with. Ladies have recently changed in California, not to men I finally got a little help to gain my freedom. I know I am at the end of my prison stay. My future is jam packed with adventure. Today is time to adjoin yourself to the great creature who's only limits are his imagination.

Peace, Michael DA Good
