

Ronald W. Clunk
January 3, 2014

"Civility"

I'll give death penalty proponents, this much. Some murders... like those of children who have been raped, and brutally murdered, are hard to argue against the death penalty. I see cases like this of Jimmy Rice, and it stirs an anger deep inside of me. But trading murder for murder, is just a barbaric, uncivilized act. Humanity is being thrown aside and replaced with, "Dogs I say, not as I do." which everyone knows is the Fool's way of handling things. We teach that violence doesn't solve anything, but then we commit a violent act!" murder is not the answer, yet we commit a murder to make our point that it's not acceptable.

The death penalty is not a deterrent and never will be. People don't commit crimes thinking their going to get caught. And I'd say most of these murderers are mentally ill to some degree. Juan's act, I do not approve of, but there's worse things than death, and a life sentence to Juan, would be worse.

Governor Scott is signing the worst case's, child and women killers, cause he can justify his enjoyment of killing these individuals who he has deemed as monsters. But what it shows, is the lack of civility and human decency on his behalf. Christ-like - not a chance!" I don't have the answers, but exchanging death for death is not it.

Change is required.

God bless
In peace + love
Pamie