Thank you for transcribing my post for me. I am a little disappointed that a portion of it was cut off. But life is so full of little disappointments which we shouldn't let ruin what we do accomplish. It's like the injustices I continue to endure on a daily basis. the hardships it causes is very painful & debilitating, but I refuse to let it destroy me. It's difficult to stay positive.

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Carrie D. Segun". The signature is written in dark ink and features a large, sweeping flourish at the beginning.
