Light of The Full Moon

I write this addition to my Blog still stranded in a Institutionalized Penal Bureaucracy. Permit me to share an experience of a spiritual Feeling of hope and good will that came over me one night as I appreciated a bright Full moon its beauty in stark contrast with the despair hell and misery of my situation being imprisoned.

All at once I realized how knowing it must be because it was there before, when humans appeared and during their continued existence on earth. Earth's moon is a repository of earth's history and the beings on earth. Continuous cycles of struggles and Wars to end all wars followed by more War. The truths the earth moon has witnessed close up make it truly a natural mystic sphere reflecting light to us who will wake up, look up and 'make up' rather than put it on and put others off. Who Feels it Knows it.

A Fresh chapter in the cycle of earth's history may be upon us. More people more and more across the country are demanding the legalization of marijuana. Each person has their own reason. Combined the collective consciousness of reason of people wanting to gain the Freedom to do pot as they chose absent of Fear or concern of punishment or harassment from the law! Could this plant that grows all over the planet be a catalyst for humans to pursue getting on the path to humanity with vigilance.

People tell of pain relief capabilities of marijuana use externally or internally that many have experienced. A calm meditative state is experienced by others and aids them to cope with hectic pace of day to day living and survival. For many a state of calm, bliss and centeredness is attained.

Flowers and Plants are considered as gifts all over the world. Cannabis is nature's gift that keeps on giving. Would it be wonderful to return Peace on Earth we live on as a kind of return gift in kindness. A better collaboration would be a task to achieve. Possibly a harbinger of positivity and renunciation of perverted ideals.

An additional benefit under the influence of pot the freeing up of restraints on individuals' imaginations under the pot could bring a watershed of ideas and opportunities. A state imagined can be a state achieved. States I would like to see are: State absent of youth shooting youth at schools, absent of severe hunger of children and adults, absent of homelessness and State absent of vulgar budgets for imprisoning people much larger than budgets for education and teachers' salaries. Clinical studies confirm that individuals are naturally inclined to discharge culturally embedded stereotypes as pot users. People using pot laugh and giggle under the influence which is great for relieving stress and tension. Matriarchal tribes in parts of Africa practice a custom whereby the tribal community resolves disputes by everyone sitting in a circle in silence and smoking pot. Soon everyone is laughing and in good spirits and the dispute is resolved and settled. These tribes are some of the oldest on the planet.

Pot use assist individuals to cease resistance thinking about positioning themselves in positions of authority that prevent them from responding to the truth or objective scrutiny. This is a significant factor of passive resistance to going along or with the flow to get along. In relation to the statement "In a democracy citizens get the leaders they deserve," synchronized opinion is a most powerful and effective determinant as to who our elected officials will be. Citizens who have Freed their imaginations to able to comprehend a better country for their and other youth via the awareness and realization enduring self-inflicted wounds is not necessary. Especially when the wounds and consequences have a direct relation to dulled artificial imaginations. Our social practices determine how we think which has great potential for us to reassess our perspectives and view points, and, raise consciousness awareness.

The song title, "There's gotta be a better world somewhere" sung by Louis Armstrong. So why not right here?

Yes, it is an exaggeration to suggest Pot is the answer. It is not what I'm doing. Five fingers make a hand Pot would be the palm to which the Fingers attach. Arms used for hugging with pot palmated hands probably would not be connected to Fingers prepared or eager to pull Fingern triggers. Realistic Optimism 2014-2014
