NOT ALLOWED TO SEEK PEN PALS.

Chapter 33-210.101(4) Prohibits me from using this blog to solicit or otherwise commercially advertise for money, goods or services. For the purpose of this rule this includes advertising for penpals;

I'm guessing from what my classification officer said yesterday, that this includes not asking for legal help from attorneys, nor can I say, at the end of a post, write. So this is a notice, to "all," that this blog is not here for seeking money, goods nor legal services. This blog is strictly to give me a voice, to the outside world, which from my understanding the FDIC does not like, silent abuse, silent suffering is the way of the dirty back woods southern states. I mean, this is the heart beat of the KKK and the demonic southern baptist church, which has no problem casting the first stone. That being beside the point. This is not a pen-pal web site or pen-pal blog, and that, all the readers of this blog have now been informed of. God help the satanic state of Florida pray for them,

God bless all

In Peace & Love
