"I DARE YOU TO..."

Am I the only person who has an exceptional awareness of their own capacity to Love? Am I the only person who runs across a piece of music or a song that sums up the magnitude and detail of what you seek to fulfill in Loving?

Well, I have been so alone and pressing my way to remain in the Thrown Room of God through prayer and worship, until I feel as though this song was sent "specifically" to me to let me know that my God, my Creator really does know how I feel, and has NOT forgotten me.

I think I have now had this song ON REPEAT for 6 days and nights. It is like the MOST ACCURATE "Chant" for how I am, and where I am <sup>in my life</sup> in my life, and this life as I ~~feel~~ <sup>am</sup> connecting with real opportunities to Love — and chances to allow True Love to express through me. This song has me spell bound.

Of course I gave up on ever really being able to Love this way with another human being - but oh to have someone around who would,
or could, or is willing to "BE STILL"
long enough to understand.

Oh yea! What is the DARE?

WELL - I dare you to search on I-TUNES and FIND this song that I am talking about. It's like the Universe picked up the phone, called me back, and said: Hey there you African Classic, "I Am listening

I hope you accept my dare, and listen to this Beautiful

Love Song that has me so
EH CHANTED!
