

QUESTIONS OF MORALITY

On February 26, 2014, racketeers operating within Florida's legal community showed/demonstrated their arrogance once more in the belief of being above the law, when they premeditatedly killed another human being within their death chambers. This criminal organization knows as long as they collusively maintain control over Florida's death penalty scheme, none of them will ever be prosecuted for their crimes. Especially since they rely on societies apathy and ignorance of the law to help conceal the evidence of their criminal enterprise.

As a victim of this criminal enterprise that continues to hold me falsely imprisoned for over three decades through control of my representation before the courts. I am now appealing to the worldwide court of public opinion to help me prosecute the evidence my case presents to bring all within Florida's political community collusively guilty of violating the integrity of the law, to justice.

Should United States President Barack Obama, be filled with righteous indignation to learn on March 20, 2014, while he campaigned and attended fundraisers in the state of Florida, he shared headlines with the premeditated murder of a man on death row, whose execution was sanctioned solely by racketeers operating within Florida's political community?

Maybe the question should be more poignant! Now that President Obama, knows (assuming he will be informed of this blog) there is overwhelming evidence proving Florida's death penalty scheme is run by racketeers. Will he fulfill his ethical obligation to the people of the United States and disassociate himself from this corrupt organization through the prosecution of the evidence of racketeering my case of over three decades of false imprisonment presents?

Page two blog entry: <http://betweenthebars.org/blogs/5296/>

I will continue to openly seek prosecution of these racketeers and hope their arrogance of sharing the headlines with President Obama, will prove to be the straw that breaks their backs...

Thank you for reading my blog.

Milo Rose