

"Glamour up"

I've developed a fascinating discovery about self of what I think is more pleasing to look at a fully clothed woman than seeing one in buff. As a man I know many men would differ in what I'm saying - first of all I've seen many naked women in my 52 years in that time I've seen the various shapes & of gals. I also disgustingly admit I've seen many mens magazines. I finally got a free subscription to Glamour magazine & got taken by all the stuff our ladies do to Glam-up. Which I quickly made mental notes and for first time (now sexually) I found women v. attractive fully clothed in beautiful attire. Some of the shoes they wear are (pumps) would seem like they'd thrash their poor feet.

I have begun marking my magazines I like on women outfits - all the way to how they apply make up & hair styles. Yeah! I'm really into it now. Can't wait I get my next issue. Guys take my advice dump the trash magazines & pick up a Glamour. You might even learn things about your masculinity - And maybe your girl will see another side of you. Who knows she might even like it.
 over in hot water don't have hair - hair is a woman
