

Greetings again Friends & Comrades:

Hope you appreciated the picture I included in my last communique'. So now you get a picture of my appearance. This time I am including an online site, (other than my regular site contact here), which is an affiliated political organization; "We The People"-WTP. org. Another site which happens to be connected with "We The People" is; National Initiative. U.S. The man who runs that organization along with those sites has asked me to refer others to support. Let's unite our political efforts as we are all one in the struggle to better America & ultimately, the world also.

Let me remind you, that even though I have been requesting folks out there in the public that visit my site to lend support to my own personal legal & political efforts to regain my freedom from prison for a conviction I am innocent of, I also recommend you all to support the various political efforts I align myself with which are serious & official in their nature..

That is a given assumption considering I happen to be a political prisoner. All are worthy organizations, and all are worthwhile causes I assure you! Otherwise, I would not bother ask others to support them.

I ask again, please contact me! Don't be shy. I won't bite.

I will end this communique by stating "I am no fanatic, (although I might sound like one to some), I am not an Arabic style Terrorist, but, I am a radical (in the 1960's genre of the term), an activist & a revolutionary. My last communique I included (along with my picture) a page from my F.B.I. file showing I had served a 5 yr. sentence for a robbery I committed as a protest against my forced induction into the military during the Viet Nam War. That was meant to give an indication of what some of my political persuasions are. But, to elaborate, my political alignments & affiliations reach beyond the anti-war movement. In fact they are quite extensive. Just so it is known.

Please let me finish by adding "it is not just politically minded people

I wish to hear from. "Actually I desire to hear from anyone who can be supportive of me & the causes I align myself with. (Legal support or political support).

I have waited many many years to obtain the realization of what I believe in & hold true. I await patiently to hear from someone out there now.

Those wishing to make contact with me can leave a message at my blog site, (which I am told will be forwarded to me), or write to me at this address:
