

I. Carmichael,

4-10-14

Thanks once again, this situation isn't forever but a stepping stone to become someone great when everybody in society seems to think that no one has come out of prison and become something great.

At this very moment my lifestyle is changing for the better and I'm looking at life from a different perspective to being a better father, son, and friend.

God has blessed me with a talent to write, so I'm going to exploit it by any means. Thank you once again I hope to hear from you soon on if the kids like the poetry and wants to hear more. God Bless you.

I am the unwilling! I am led by the unqualified, and I have been doing the unbelievable for so long, with so little, that I am now attempting the impossible with nothing!!!

LeVar E. Jones

LeVar E. Jones