Come on - you don't know me. you only know what you've read. you've never sat down and talked with me, or got to know me. so don't judge me so harshly. Here a big hug for you. my guess is you maybe a staff-member of the D.O.C. and that's cool. But if you hate me so much, why read my blog? just trying to understand you. well, I still wish you the best, because I understand that just like me, you are a fallible human being. Take care.

God bless you.

In Peace + Love
