

• My Side •

Two stones are never the same.
Punctuation marks were on the right place
While nouns and verbs were misplaced
I was drawn to the chalk board
Where your story was written
Found several inconsistencies
Like how you left my heart bleeding
It wasn't
It never did.
Can't deny that it cried thro.
It cried for hours on end
But one thing it never did
Was let blood shed
Do head brag and tell your story
As best way as you can
But don't continue to be
Because my heart for you
Never bled.
