Great Joy

By Della E

Since you came into my life, everything else seem so small far beyond my wildest fantasy, you're my one and all my happiness is now complete, because in loving you each golden hour has made my dreams come true.
The lovely things I see in you, to treasure and I you're the flowers of spring, you're the stars above The softness of your lips, your sweet gentle touch are part of my real happiness, that I enjoy so much you're a magic melody, that opened my heart's door you're a song whose sweet refrain, makes me love you more I'm living in a world, of hopes and dreams come true because I know the happiness and joy, of loving you my love for you is eternal, and will always stay, and will be vibrant each and every day.

But even when, we are split far apart, the love will not fade, within my troubled heart.
With all the miles that separate you and I, will never cause all of my love, for you to die.
For the love I have, is truly Heaven made, for it will not falter, it will definitely not fade for in its nature, it is strong as it is pure, and are made of qualities that'll definitely endure.
For nothing earthly, can even dare to destroy this heavenly bond between us, that gives great joy!
