Way Back When

By John E.

in the year 2002, my life came to an abrupt halt! it was July 11th, that was the day I got caught, I blamed everybody for my actions and it wall my + a snail in this game, sliding through a row of sat- couldn't move! like a turtle laying on his shell. nobody to help me up, guess I'm on my own in a A costly mistake, but it's a life that I chose, chose to leave my family to my actions eyes were immature in the mind, living my life without a p in prison now for over 12 years, but I'm a better 2002 was horrible, wishing I could rewind the c. do things differently, it would've been the match I Karma came back around, and slapped me in the Paid me back for my wrong doings, living in a small p hurt everybody I knew, mistreated people I cared a too self centered it's the punishment I got, for burning For God has helped me, but I don't need nobody's sy this prison has made better, and it's part of my histor I got alot of stories, to tell, like the highway Patr everything from setting fires, prison life, to being on I was my own enemy! now I spill ink in my pe confessing my crimes about what I did way back
