Can't see myself with nobody else Rydella

At night the stars shine, and the moon is clear and thank God what He brought together, when I pray.
Soon as I see the stars shoot across the sky, I make a wish and remember that sparkle in your
The rough start we had, caused you a lot of stress, instead of making you happy, pain was your happiness.
Picture the candle lit dinners, putting a ring on your walking on the beach, making love on the sand.
I'm like a heartbeat, you think of me when you feel Even though I'm not there, I'm there for you in Everytime your heart beat, and you feel it go boom.
Know that I'm there for you, in every single room no matter where you're at, my love isn't far, this may be the worse, never said it wouldn't get hard If it were that easy, there would never be divorce couples headed in the right direction, on the right coast so when things get bad, and you feel you can't take pray about it, because I know we can make it.
Don't throw in the towel, we'll make it through,
cause I can't see myself with nobody else but you
