Everybody's blessed with a miracle, I was blessed with then another was added, when I fell in love with you A woman who is kind, tender hearted, and sincere, a woman by my side, to wipe away all my tears.
A woman to comfort me, when I've lost self-control that woman I'll give my mind, heart, body and soul.
A smile that's irresistible, a woman I call my friend the woman that's lonely, when can I see you smile?
A woman who cares, and is easy to understand, even though I'm not there, I still hold your hand.
It's crazy when I see the moon, where I'm standing you see the same moon, I feel you staring back.
I see the stars at night, and I think it's a trick suddenly I feel a cold wind, sweep across my lips I look for the brightest star, and I make a wish that is to hold you close, craving your sweet kiss when I hold you, I know you're the woman of my dream my wife to be, to rescue me from the tempting dream one day we'll reunite, it'll only be you and me a burden lifted off of us, like a bird we'll fly free.
