(In the name of Allah, The Beneficent, The Merciful)

"GROW UP & STAND UP!"

The world has found a new enemy. Just like all the enemies of the past 20 years. This enemy is a muslim. Allegedly the so-called extreme terrorist islamic group called Boko Haram, led by their leader Abubakr Shekau. Apparently Boko Haram has been around awhile. For some time they have been fighting to instill strict islamic law in their region of Nigeria. Their latest Jihad has been with christian western education and tradition being taught in Nigeria. Supposedly their most recent tactic has been the kidnapping of approximately 300 school age girls in christian founded schools. Apparantly, Abubakar Shekau has claimed responsibility for these acts. Stating that he has the blessing of Allah. He stated that there is a market for human trafficking and he plans to sell the girls on the black market and marry others off to his followers.

Again, I am not privileged to all the information so I do not know these accusations to be true or false. Nor do I know if there are other parties to play in this iether? This is what I do know. Using this situation is the perfect time for the Islamic world to GROW UP & STAND UP. If these alligations are true. Abubakar/Shekau should be hunted down, the girls rescued and the entire Boko Haram group tried by MUSLIMS! If found to be guilty by powers other than Boko Haram themselves, they too should be dealt with. If Boko Haram in guilty and working alone. They should be justly dealt with and done in a way that the world knows that Islam needs no other to guide it. Muslims deal with Muslims. No one else. Islamic Justice ballances Islam.

I have to now be frank. Let us not get it twisted. The lives of 300 innocent young girls are at the foundation of this issue. Girls grow into women. Women are the builders of nations. No nation can rise above the virtues of it's women and the reverence given them by the men of said nation. This traumatic experirence and what may lay ahead for these girls, is more than likely a life that will kill the nation rising ability in these women, that was put there by Allah himself. Instead of Boko Haram saving society from the evils of the west; Boko Haram themselves are placing an evil into the socities these girls happen to find themselves in the future. This is HARAM. It doesn't matter if these girls are Muslim, Christian, Jewish, or Athiest. Muslims have a code they must follow and set the example for the world. Muslims are the example how people should be treated in the world. Today, the islamic world is starting to look like the Christians during the crusades.

In dealing with Boko Haram. This is strickly an Islamic duty. This has to be done in the Name of Allah, because these once believers are using Allah's name to do evil. This group has turned renegade and are the responsibility of muslims and muslims only. For the islamic world to allow other non believers to deal with this group or any other group they may deem unsuitable is Haram. Any individual, group, or State that proclaims LA ILAHA ILLALLAH is under the protection of Allah and can only be dealt with according to Islam, by those whom are true believers. It is time for Islam to deal with it's own house. Non believers have other motives other than Allahs Justice. True believers will investigate thoroughly. Weighing all the facts. With Allah's justice being the motive, only then can true justice be had.. Just look at the non believers already. There is a 7 million dollar bounty on the head of Abubakar Shekau. Do you really think justice is the motive here? No one is going to investigate the facts. All the non believer sees is killing another muslim, getting 7 million dollars and being a hero. Non believers are not even concerned about rescuing the girls.

True believers of Islam should grow up. Stop looking to others to handle the business of muslims. Stand up and accept that not all believers stay on the Sira Tal Mustaqim (the straight path). When once believers become misbelievers or disbelievers. It is the job of true believers to stand up and deal with said group in an islamicly just manner.

In this case here. I believe that a True believing group from Nigeria should call for help from it's own world Ummah. Stand up and tell the other non believers to stand down. If their assistance is needed it will be requested. Meanwhile, this Nigerian group shall call to it's brothers world wide. For example: Call for 100 Shiite brothers from Iran, 100 Suni brothers from Mecca, 100 Maliki brothers from Mexico, 100 Nation Of Islam (Fruits) from London, and 100 5% (Gods) from America. That's 500 true believers working with the Nigerian brothers to bring a renegade brother to justice; save as many of the girls as possible. Not only does this bring the Ummah closer together, it pleases Allah when the faithful stand up and defend his holy name. I would suggest that the 7 million dollar bounty not be accepted. However, if it is accepted. It should all go to paying for the expenses of the brothers for assistance and the rest go to making a better future for all the girls rescued.

It's time for all muslims to grow up & stand up. Oh, I got to say this also. It was heavy on my mind. This is another reason why Muslims are supposed to step up for this cause. Prophet Muhammad (SAW) taught that the worth of a woman is 3 times that of a man. Boko Haram has taken 300 girls. This is the equivalent of 900 men. For anyone who proclaims to love Allah and love Islam. How can you sit back and let the people of the book do the job you are supposed to be doing? If all that Boko Haram is accused of is true, and They are using the name of Allah to support their evil ways; even if there are others behind them forcing them or paying them to propogadize extremism. Only as one UMMAH can this be dealt with and only as One UMMAH should this be dealt with. From behind the prison walls. I, as an Islamic practitioner, demand that Islamic world GROW UP & STAND UP and BE!

AS-SALAMU ALAIKUM WA-RAHMATUL-LAH
(Peace be on you and Allah's blessings)

(FOOT NOTE)

After rereading what I wrote. I see that my views may be a little radical to some. I do not see it as such. I do however recognize that my thinking comes from my prison experience. Muslims in prison are a target by all non believers at one time or another. The only time muslims have difficulties is when there is division amongst the different schools of thought or when they simply did not stand up for one another. The times that the muslims NEVER have any problems outside the UMMAH. Is when they all work together, pray together, eat, play, fast, dialog and stick together. This has been my experience at every prison I have been to. I see no reason this cannot be out in the free world?

PEACE!
