Hey IT92 I'm glad you enjoyed my poem, I hope you get a chance to read my other work on this site. I am currently writing a book and I think it's good enough to get published but I would need some help from the free world. It would involve some work on the other persons part so I'm willing to pay up to $20,000.00 for their time. I know this sounds like a lot of money but if I can get the first book published, then I'm set. The money would come out of what I would get from the publishing company for the book, the least amount is $50,000.00. So even though 20 grand is a big chunk out of what I would make, I feel it's worth it to get started. So if you or someone you know is interested, hit me up on this site or write me at,

I also know how to make it completely legal, so everyone gets their money, without involving lawyers. Peace ☺ Donny
