

Comment Reply

Reply ID: qvnb

Written 4-30-14

Great to see your comment, Chris! Thanks for all the kind words and thoughts. I actually got notified of your comment right after I sent out my last blog entry, #2 "So Whatcha Want", which I wrote largely because I didn't know if anyone reads these at all. Now that I've seen a comment, I have a better idea how it works. This is a LOT different from when I used to post stuff online and have instant feedback! At least then I could look at will and see what was going on on the bulletin board or comment tree or whatever. Now I sit for weeks wondering if things even got posted.

You know I'm always up for interesting current events talk, so hit me up with whatever is on your mind.

To Chris and anyone else who may read this... please remember, I don't put this stuff up myself, and I have no way to see it unless someone sends me a copy. Between The Bars has informed me that I will be notified of any comments my blog receives (as I was of this one, but if there are others I still haven't seen them), however I will NOT get printouts of the actual blogs I post over time. They only gave me a copy of my profile page and first entry. So, I'm asking a favor... if you read this, I'd love to see a copy of any blog entries I wrote after #1, simply because as of now, I can't even be sure they are up there, let alone how they look. Also, if someone comments me, it would be nice to see whatever I said that prompted their reply. And Chris, if you or anyone else wants to send me copies of other prisoners' blogs or comments, I'd love to see what else is going on on this site. Thanks.

As of 5-2-14, my current mailing address is still:

Dymitri Haraszewski
AC2622 A4-216
P.O. Box 404020
Ione, CA 95640

The A4-216 will change eventually, it is just a building & cell number. But with my name and AC2622, all mail will reach me, (probably).

or try emailing: dym@squirrel@gmail.com; dymitriA1@yahoo.com.