I Control Everything

By Jabou Efor

Remember! I control everything! R-I-C-E.
it's nothing I have to make, definitely nothing to eat, I control my own destiny, a part of history is written,
revealing my deepest feelings, that's been hidden.
Deep in my soul, keeping some anger buried,
I control everything around me, and that's really scary.
It don't matter I been to prison, so forget my mugshot, I'll control everything, a real legend has been sought.
once I'm free, there's no looking back,
why do that? when I'm leading the pack,
pushing past the bad, who cares if I'm a felon, this pen in my hand, somehow will make me a legend.
Not trying to offend anyone, nor disrespect, anybody at all, but get all the money I can get.
years of my life wasted, when I committed my crime, 17 years gone I'm getting old, and running out of time.
I control my own life, can't nobody run this here, you don't need HQ the picture is made very clear,
whoever's by my side, will be blessed with nice things, I'll be on top of the world, cause I control everything
