Dead much longer

Bydell Egan

The inevitable is coming! the world's coming to an end its brother against brother, friend against friend, countries fighting each other, earthquakes shakin the ground tsunamis wiping out villages, planes that cant be found, tornadoes destroying cities, people trapped by mudslides ice bergs melting, and theres no where to hide, when the world end, you'll definitely know, that whats said in "Revelation" will start to show, confusion among leaders, and theres no peace, no treaties or compromises, only bodies thats deceased.
Terrorism all over, its not just Al-Qaeda, or the taliban, leaders showing others how much power, he have in his hands, only taking one call, as people of the nation shout, look at Hiroshima, and Nagasaki, wiping entire countries out.
Death is lurking about, grim reaper pulling a double, working the graveyard shift, and the world is in trouble, no matter who you are, death will still come, shell have a dress, a suit! he only need one, when death comes, it wont give anybody a pass, who cares about going green, emissions, or natural gas, you may get shot or stabbed, may even die in your sleep, hit by a car, Pray to the Lord your soul to keep, when its all over for the weak ones, those whos stronger, dont matter how long you live, you'll be dead much longer.
