

IN SEARCH OF DIVINITY

I need her to know:

She took a rebellious slave like me, and made him never want to be free from her captivity its not by chance but destiny that we meet her essence is so unique, this woman makes me feel invincible...yet, so weak I long just to hear her speak!

I need her to know:

She makes the future brighter my footsteps lighter, how my heart quickens
and if she'll listen, though the beats sound the same they spell out her name - ..................*

I need her to know:

how that which was once lost, has been found so I smile just knowing she's around how I see her beauty in all things, I have a new appreciation for the joy of dreams how everything has changed but if she remains the same we'll build a foundation so strong it could hold her fears, the world, and her throne!

I need her to know:

how she compliments my life how our very souls seem connected how I'll take her heart and w/that same life I vow to protect it

I need her to know:

how she's taken my heart, restrained and cold and w/a beautiful smile - made it unfold the eyes are the windows to the soul but when I look into her eyes

I see the 2 of us growing old
I need her to know:

She's the inspiration that got me focused on creating, maintaining and cultivating the most meaningful man and woman relations bonded w/2 hearts and 1 soul (I've found the other half to my soul)

I need her to know:

If it would prove my love were true I'd gladly lie so I could watch over you Not my 1st, but its thru your love that love is defined and the love you provide, is a force so pure...it must be divine!

Divine love is what can happen between 2 people when they take off their disguises and lay a foundation of loyalty, honesty, trust, respect, understanding, and selflessness.
