I received a post from you on the 27th. The date on the form letter was 13 May, 4 days and 15 hours after it was posted - 8 May I think - it took 19 days for me to get it. :-
I mailed in a post answering your question on 5 May. It takes about 7 to 10 days to be posted.

How are you doing my love? To answer your first question, I'm doing fine-blue :- The warm winter has been good for my arthritis. I'm still working but only a couple of days a week still waiting for a new boss, full time :- I've been walking most mornings 4 or 5 miles a day. I let myself get lazy & fat 15 lbs over the winter :- I've been painting in the afternoons. I'm starting a series of James right now - the first one of him & Nancy together then some of just James for everyone. I did Tim back in Feb, about 8 of them from a picture of him in his 30's. The picture of James is from 99 - he sure looked good there.

You've always known that I invert my letters - put in wrong letters. I can spell it right in one place and invert in another and not see the differences when I go back over them - you're the one who pointed it out to me.

I talked to Ted at Cella's a couple of days back. Hurt Alice is getting worse - no one seem to know how bad. He said he had tried to call you but your phone was cut off - give him a call love.

The sun has come up - it's going to be another warm day :-
I think I might have broken the big toe on my right foot again, 6th or 7th time. I tripped going down the stairs on my way to work, took my eyes off the steps for a second. Know better the toe is all black & blue but it don't hurt much - my left knee is swollen, my right knee is bruised up - no need seeing a doctor - a broken toe has to mend on its own and I have the 800 lbs of pressure for my ~~arthritis~~ arthritis - On the dock of the bay.
