Good morning! I received your comment last night, thank you for your kind words. I can only assume that you are Ann, and you can't regret leaving me, I'm the one that left. I did go to protect you from my drug's and destructive behavior. Wish that wreck wouldn't have happened. Then two people dying in that crash just messed my world up. Second's could have avoided it. still messes with me to this day. I think about you a lot, last time we wrote, I was involved in a situation, which you know all about. And I know you were married, and last thing I wanted to do, was interfere in that. I do hope to hear from you, not sure what day you responded to this my guess would be May 12 or 13. If you've changed your mind, I understand I hope not. Please take care of yourself and know that I'm anxiously awaiting your letter.

In Peace & Love
Bonnie ☺
