Dear Patricia,

Thank you dearly for the flower. I'll make sure to keep it watered and not let it die. Your words were and are encouraging to me. With as much lemons as I've been given I should be a lemonade by now! You're right that only we have the power to change what and who we are but why stop with our selves? I'll make sure to smile more. By the way, this is a late reply but if you'll be kind, would it bother you to reply back to this, if you can, it's never been done to me and I'm curious to see if it works. Take care and be safe.

warmly,

Bob
