

MEN IN PRISON ARE ALSO LOVERS

Men in prison are better lovers,
because they can't cheat.
The very first rule of the faithful lover,
is not to cheat!
Men in prison, in their mind eyes may cheat,
it will not hurt their women lives one bit:
C mon, a letter, a card from another chic?
It's the knowledge of what was done, or maybe,
that these women fear!

But a man in prison limited memory,
of what was there previously;
except in the pages that he reads,
and what he sees.
They're only good to him, if they are real!

Men in prison are more romantic,
because, once he falls in love with a chic;
he is stuck on her only.
She is the source of all his needs!

Men in prison are more thoughtful
because they will make time for night-call,
and they look forward to phone-love
for kisses and hugs on a visit call.

men in prison are better kissers,
cause they long for the first kiss from her,
and look forward to the touch of her hand.
They wait months to feel her skin.

Men in prison are very good husbands;
for they are constantly in their women's minds,
on the "wings of words", and cards.
And they love from a distance afar!

Men in prison won't run away,
like a runaway teen on the freeway;
freely giving hid good to strangers,
and looking in dark corners for hookers!

Caged men miss the honeys more,
appreciate their affections more.
They know that "Precious Love" has died.
And only its resurrection will bring life!

When they meet a "Lady" on the "Wings of Words".
They know that's the resurrection of some love.
They made for them a "Virtual World".
And the words on paper are its door!