

Wednesday 11 June 2014

My Love:

I talked to Teddy a few days ago and he said Aunt Alice is coming near to the end. You and I have talked about it and knew this time was coming. I know she's ready, she's been lost since Mamas parting. I'm sad right now and know everyone else is. I will always miss her. Did I ever tell you that she has always been my favorite Aunt, even when I was a little boy she always looked out for me.

By the way lover - call Teddy - he's been trying to get in touch with you and he's afraid of facebook. I think computers in general.

I rubbed my knee against the tool and it hurt like hell - it's still black and blue from where I fell down the stairs 2 weeks ago - they x-rayed my toe & foot - not broken - the doctor said next time I fall 'bottom tier'.

I has been hot here, in the 100 the last couple of days. I put my feet in my 5 gallon pool (just one foot at a time) You would be surprised at how having a cold foot cools down your body. hope you're enjoying your pool love.

I just finish a painting of James & Nancy (going to do a couple of more painting of James - I did 8 of Tim a couple of months ago - you know what I've noticed, both of my brother were handsome.

Still working, just a couple of days a week - still waiting for a new boss - enjoying the time off - keeping myself covered in the sun - starting to walk more as my feet permit. Sometime I feel my age with about 10 years added - sometime I feel 16 that's usually when I come up limping.

I will start posting more often for you my love. I said I would at the beginning of the year - lover.

You Are My Heart