

- Lonesome Dove bursts into flames -

- Drowning -

A thousand fragments of life and love
Sinks into a vast ocean of whats to be never again.
I wade through the memories of you of us.

Compelled to cup a hand full at a time relive every sacred moment as it slips through the cracks of my hands

- Birds of Pain -

I cant help the birds of pain break free of their white cage.
In the lonely dark and silence
I hear them singing their love sick songs.

- Two Am

She whispers
I love you into the phone as she lays next to him.
Im staring at the side of the bed she used to lie in.
In the mornings I swear
I can smell her perfume Starting my day off with the cold dread that she will still be gone when I get home
